Addis Ababa-Ethiopia, 3-4 July 2017: 29th Ordinary Session of the African Union Assembly, remembering Dr. Babatunde Osotimehin

The Acting Executive Director of the UNFPA Dr. Natalia Kanem was invited by H.E. Prof. Alpha Conde, President of the Republic of Guinea and Chairperson of the African Union to attend the 29th Ordinary Session of the African Union Assembly in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, from 3-4 July 2017.

The context of this visit was first, the contribution of UNFPA to AU Member States on the AU theme of the year: “Harnessing the Demographic Dividend through Investments in Youth” and second, the loss of Prof. Babatunde Osotimehin, Executive Director of UNFPA in June 2017. In his speech during the opening ceremony, the AU Chair said: “Dr. Babatunde Osotimehin (...) was brutally taken away from us. He contributed significantly, through his engagement and exemplary leadership in awakening the international community on the importance of the demographic dividend towards achieving sustainable development. He worked hard so that the African Union’s Roadmap regarding this theme would be a tangible reality. “

The role played by UNFPA was acknowledged by African leaders and other stakeholders as the message on the Demographic Dividend was loud and clear. AU Head of States are indeed calling for implementation of strategies to harness the Demographic Dividend, to join efforts to provide a peaceful environment for youth enabling them to be competitive in the professional market.

OAFLA used this opportunity to launch its annual flagship publication. In line with the AU theme of the year, “Harnessing the Demographic Dividend through Investments in Youth”, the publication particularly features content that is in line with OAFLA 2017 theme which is “Building on 15 years of engagement to harness the demographic dividend of Africa through promoting the needs of adolescents and their access to youth-friendly health services”. The publication was jointly launched by Dr. Natalia Kanem and the First Lady of the Republic of Chad, H.E Mrs. Indira Deby. UNFPA was proud to participate in this event and Dr. Kanem highlighted that “UNFPA will remain committed to working together with OAFLA to mobilize greater investments in youth, prioritizing the needs of all adolescents as a way to ensure that the demographic dividend becomes a reality for Africa.” The ceremony was attended by many First ladies and a minute of silence was observed on the loss of Prof. Babatunde Osotimehin. Prior to this, she had an opportunity to meet with H. E. Roman Tesfaye, First lady of Ethiopia and elected Chair of OAFLA and other First Ladies present.

Dr. Kanem had several high-level meetings in the margins of the AU Summit and she used this opportunity reiterate UNFPA's commitment to the development of Africa’s people. Especially the women, adolescents and youth who make up a significant proportion of the population and are disproportionately affected when there is inaction or neglect. African First Ladies contribution towards the Continental Agenda on Women Empowerment and the Demographic Dividend

Despite the significant progress made in raising economic growth rates, improving maternal health, decreasing infant mortality and increasing school enrollment rates for girls, and improving the participation of women in decision-making processes, most countries in the Sahel region are still unable to translate this economic growth into a prosperous and better quality of life for the people. A High-level Meeting on the SWEDD Initiative was organized by UNFPA/WCARO in the margins of the 29th AU General Assembly.

This high-level meeting according to Mr. Mabingue Ngom, Regional Director of UNFPA/WCARO aims “to provide a platform for exchanges between First Ladies and the community of partners on the major challenges of empowering women and girls in order to strengthen their commitment to support efforts to address these challenges”. The meeting also informed them about their participation in the launch of the regional communication campaign for social and behavioral change that will take place later in August 2017 in Korhogo, Côte d’Ivoire. The involvement of high-level political leaders, including the African First Ladies was identified particularly concerning the SWEDD Social and Behavioral Change Communication (SBCC) Strategy to harness the demographic dividend. The success of this initiative depends to a large extent on the successful implementation of interventions aimed at generating women and girls’ empowerment, girls’ education, prevention of child marriages, prevention of gender-based violence and female genital mutilation and the promotion of the use of rights-based reproductive health services. These interventions constitute the portfolio of the SWEDD project. The SWEDD project is an initiative supported by the United Nations Population Fund (UNFPA), the World Bank (WB), the Economic Community of West African States (ECOWAS) and the governments of six countries (Burkina Faso, Côte d’Ivoire, Mali, Mauritania, Niger and Chad).

UNCT Special Meeting during the 29th AU Summit- Addis Ababa, Ethiopia

Dr. Natalia following the discussions and exchanges coordinated by Mrs. Amina Mohamed
Dr. Natalia Kanem had an opportunity to meet the President of the Republic of Guinea and used the opportunity to congratulate him on his work so far as AU Chairperson including his innovation to nominate other Heads of State to lead the continental push on key issues that are of interest to the continent. This is especially the case for the Champions he has nominated for Demographic Dividend, Ending Child Marriage, Gender and UN Reform. Given that expectations are very high for the successful implementation of the AU 2017 theme of the year on “Harnessing demographic dividend through investments in youth” and its attendant roadmap which represent the continent’s sincere desire to depart from ‘business as usual’ and ensure a strategic impact towards its set development objectives, the Acting Executive Director of the UNFPA, and her delegation explored avenues on how to ensure consistent follow up to the theme of 2017.

CARMMA WEEK – Karthoum, Sudan
The Campaign for the Accelerated Reduction of Maternal Mortality in Africa (CARMMA) was launched in 2009 to help address the unacceptably high rate of maternal mortality across the African continent. This campaign had the tagline, “No woman should die whilst giving life” and focused on using key strategies to mobilize country-level stakeholders towards vital actions to reduce maternal mortality. 8 years after the launch of the campaign and with 46 countries having launched CARMMA, AUC sought to hold an in event in Sudan from 30th July-1st August, 2017, to mobilize North African countries and to launch the campaign in Sudan as the 47th country on the continent to do so. The event brought together countries from North Africa as well as neighboring States such as Ethiopia, Eritrea and Chad.
UNFPA was instrumental in the development and rolling out of CARMMA given the importance of the issue of maternal mortality to the overall mandate of the organization. This has resulted in the ongoing provision of technical and financial support to CARMMA at the continental as well as national levels. In keeping with this, UNFPA supported the CARMMA event in Sudan. Ms. Lina Moussa, Representative to Sudan led the UNFPA delegation which included Ms. Ramatu Daroda, ESARO and Mr. Samuel Kissi, DGM-ELO. There was a strong representation of the UN family with the presence and active participation of UNAIDS and FAO. W.H.O was represented by the Regional Director for EMRO.

The CARMMA launch of Sudan was chaired by the Vice President of the country with the support of the State Minister of Health and the AUC Commissioner for Social Affairs, H.E. Amira El Fadil.

The event was successful in highlighting the need to revamp action towards the accelerated reduction of maternal mortality; the importance of situating the maternal mortality reduction campaign in broader issues such as access to sexual and reproductive health and rights including family planning and the African Union’s demographic dividend agenda.
